Public procurement – main features

Purchase of works, supplies and services by public bodies

- Initiative and control lie entirely with the contracting authority who produces the detailed specifications
- The results of the action remain the property of the contracting authority
- The contractor's invoice is only paid in exchange of the delivered services, as per the contract signed by both parties

Procedures and contracts

Open procedure

Any economic operator who is interested may submit a tender.

Direct contract

The subject matter, remuneration and duration of performance of the contract are defined at the outset, as well as all other necessary legal conditions. As such, a direct contract is definitive and self-sufficient in that the contract can be implemented without further formalities.

Competitive procedure with negotiations

Two steps procedure. In the first step only the exclusion and selection criteria are assessed and in the second step the award criteria are evaluated. Any interested economic operator may ask to take part in the first step of this procedure, but only those invited can submit a tender that will be evaluated in the second step.

Framework contract

Establishes the general outline of the services or supplies to be delivered. Requires an additional step to make the actual purchase, i.e. a request for service. The invitation to submit a tender is only sent to the economic operators that are part of the framework contract.

How to submit an offer

- Economic operators can submit a tender either as a sole tenderer or as a group of tenderers.
 A joint tender is a situation where a tender is submitted by a group (with or without legal form) of economic operators regardless of the link they have between them. The group as a whole is considered a tenderer.
 - All members of the group assume joint and several liability towards the Contracting authority for the performance of the contract as a whole.
 - Group members must appoint a Group leader and a single point of contact authorised to act on their behalf in connection with the submission of the tender and all relevant questions, clarification requests, notifications, etc., that may be received during the evaluation, award and until the contract signature.
 - The joint tender must clearly indicate the role and tasks of each member and of the Group leader who will act as the Contracting authority's contact point for the contract's administrative or financial aspects and operational management. The Group leader will have full authority to bind the group and each of its members during contract execution. If the joint tender is successful, the Contracting authority shall sign the contract with the Group leader, authorised by the other members to sign the contract on their behalf via power of attorney.

Prepare your offer

Sub-contracting

- Subcontracting is the situation where the contractor enters into legal commitments with other economic operators which will perform part of the contract on its behalf. The contractor retains full liability towards the Contracting authority.
- All contractual tasks may be subcontracted unless the Technical specifications expressly reserve the execution of certain critical tasks to the sole tenderer itself, or in case of a joint tender, to a member of the group.
- Tenderers are required to give an indication of the proportion of the contract that they intend to subcontract, as well as to identify and describe briefly the envisaged contractual roles/tasks of subcontractors meeting any of these conditions for performance of the contract as a whole.
- Any such subcontractor must provide the tenderer with a commitment letter.
- Changes concerning subcontractors identified in the tender (withdrawal/replacement of a subcontractor, additional subcontracting) during the procurement procedure (after the submission deadline and before contract signature) require the prior written approval of the Contracting authority subject to verifications.
